

Labour Market Information

Labour market information tells you about the workplace or labour market. Labour Market Information (LMI) is a useful tool to help research future jobs in the local area, understand the skills needed for certain roles and the demand for future employment. It includes data on graduate destinations, average starting salaries, current trends in employment sectors and recruitment patterns.

Find out more about the sector or industry you want to work in by checking LMI to answer questions such as:

- Is it a thriving sector or are businesses in the sector closing because of the economic climate?
- Is it a growth sector predicted to provide new jobs in the future?
- Are jobs in this sector mainly located in a specific geographical location?

The answers to these questions may inform the choices you make about future

Current and Up to date Labour Market Information can be found on the Fast Tomato programme.

<https://www.fasttomato.com>

Other websites that present information on the UK labour market include;

- icould is a careers website which uses LMI for All to provide context alongside careers videos.
- U-Explore provide careers guidance solutions for schools and colleges using LMI for All in Start.
- SACU is an online source of careers information for young people, parents, teachers and careers advisers.
- RCU Ltd. is a data dashboard which draws on LMI for All data and is designed to help inform curriculum design.